
TÓM TẮT BẰNG TIẾNG ANH

The Process of Forming Resident Communities in Bao Loc, Lam Dong Province

Nguyen Thi Ha Giang

Abstract: Bao Loc, a young urban area in southern Lam Dong province, was established and developed between the late 19th and early 20th centuries as part of the French colonizers' plan to build Da Lat City. Over time, Bao Loc attracted migrants who settled there for work and living. This article outlines the formation of the Bao Loc community across different historical periods. Using historical methods alongside primary and secondary sources from archived documents and research, the study highlights the characteristics of the Bao Loc community through various stages of development.

Keywords: Resident Community; Bao Loc; Lam Dong.

Characteristics and Prospects of South Korea - Vietnam Cooperation in Lam Dong Province

Hoang Thuy Quynh

Abstract: The upgrade of Vietnam and South Korea's relationship to a comprehensive strategic partnership in 2022 has opened new avenues for cooperation, particularly in Lam Dong province. This collaboration spans economics, culture, and technology. In the economic sector, South Korean investment in high-tech agriculture has improved product quality and boosted exports. Companies like CJ Group and Daewon have launched projects in organic vegetable and flower production, as well as tourism, attracting more South Korean visitors to Da Lat. Cultural exchanges, including food festivals and art exhibitions, have strengthened mutual understanding. Additionally, partnerships between educational institutions in Lam Dong and South Korea have advanced workforce development. With strong political support and a favorable investment climate, cooperation between the two countries in Lam Dong is expected to expand further.

Keywords: Vietnam; South Korea; Lam Dong; Features; Prospects.

Transition from Traditional to High-tech Agricultural Production Model among the Co Ho People in Lac Duong District, Lam Dong Province

Nguyen Thi Phuong

Abstract: This article explores the economic shift of the Co Ho people in Lac Duong District, Lam Dong Province, as they moved from traditional farming to high-tech agriculture between 2004 and 2020. By comparing key aspects of both production models, the study highlights changes in farming techniques, production cycles, and market integration. Primary data were collected through in-depth interviews with ten individuals, while secondary sources include books, newspapers, and official documents. The findings show that this transition has significantly improved productivity and reshaped livelihood activities among the Co Ho people.

Keywords: Transition; High-tech Agriculture; Co Ho people, Lac Duong.

Poverty Reduction Programs for the Co Ho People in Me Linh Commune, Lam Ha District, Lam Dong Province

Nguyen Thi Hong

Abstract: Various poverty reduction programs and projects have been implemented for the Co Ho people in Me Linh Commune, including Program 30a, Program 134, Program 135, and the poverty reduction initiative under Resolution 67 of the Lam Dong Provincial People's Council. These efforts have led to significant improvements in the economic and social conditions of the Co Ho community. Using sociological research methods, including questionnaires and in-depth interviews, this study assesses the effectiveness of these programs and proposes solutions to enhance poverty reduction efforts. The findings provide valuable insights for other localities facing similar challenges.

Keywords: Co Ho Ethnic Group; Me Linh Commune; Poverty Reduction.

Implementing Policies to Preserve the Traditional Cultural Values of Ethnic Minority Communities in Bao Lam District, Lam Dong Province

Le Thi Nhuan, Trinh Chi Hieu, Pham Kim Quang

Abstract: In recent years, various policies have been introduced to support the economic, social, and cultural development of ethnic minority areas. This study examines the implementation of policies aimed at preserving traditional cultural values in Bao Lam District, Lam Dong Province. Using in-depth interviews and secondary data collection, the research analyzes the impact of these policies and proposes solutions to further promote cultural preservation in the context of globalization and international integration.

Keywords: Ethnic Policy; Preservation; Cultural Values; Ethnic Minority Areas; Bao Lam.

The Spiritual Life of Ethnic Minority Youth Today in Tan Thanh Commune, Lam Ha District, Lam Dong Province

Nguyen Thi Hong, Nguyen Thi Phuong

Abstract: There are several pressing issues concerning the spiritual life of ethnic minority youth in Tan Thanh Commune, Lam Ha District, Lam Dong Province. Currently, their spiritual activities are limited and lack diversity. Addressing this issue requires the involvement of authorities, agencies, and families to ensure the preservation and development of cultural and spiritual life for ethnic minority youth. This study explores immediate and long-term solutions to enhance their spiritual well-being.

Keywords: Spiritual Needs; Youth, Ethnic Minorities.

The Role of Social Workers in Connecting Resources for Children with Disabilities in Da Lat City, Lam Dong Province

Tran Thi Minh Phuong, Ha Thi An, Vo Thuan, Vu Mong Doa, Do Van Toan

Abstract: To support the holistic development of children with disabilities, adequate resources from families, schools, and communities are essential. Social workers play a crucial role in identifying available resources, addressing gaps, and facilitating connections for children with disabilities in Da Lat City, Lam Dong Province. Using quantitative and qualitative research methods, including surveys, interviews, and focus groups, this study highlights the available resources and the challenges that remain, particularly in financial support and healthcare services. The findings emphasize the importance of social workers in ensuring better access to essential resources.

Keywords: Social Worker; Resource Connection; Children with Disabilities; Roles.

Promoting the Value of Historical-Cultural Sites and Nature Heritage for Tourism Development in Lam Dong Province

Dinh Thi Hoang Phuong, Dao Thi Hieu

Abstract: Historical-cultural sites and natural heritage play a vital role in socio-economic development. Lam Dong Province has made efforts to preserve and promote these values in association with tourism development. However, challenges remain, such as inconsistent awareness among businesses and communities, inadequate management, and climate-related impacts. This study analyzes the current status of heritage promotion and proposes solutions to enhance its effectiveness for sustainable tourism development.

Keywords: Value; Historical Sites; Culture; Tourism; Lam Dong Province.

Conditions for Developing Healing Tourism in Bao Loc City, Lam Dong Province

Bui Cam Phuong, Pham Tran Thang Long, Ta Duong Tra My

Abstract: Applying the 6S model (Sérénité, Sécurité, Santé, Satisfaction, Service, Sanitaire), this study evaluates the conditions for developing healing tourism in Bao Loc City, Lam Dong Province, using survey data from 385 tourists. The findings indicate that while the city offers favorable conditions such as a serene environment and health-focused services, certain areas, including service quality and tourist satisfaction, require improvement. The study provides policy recommendations to enhance the potential of healing tourism in Bao Loc.

Keywords: Healing Tourism; Wellness Tourism; Medical Tourism; 6S Model; Lam Dong Province.

Characteristics of Lam Dong Poetry (2012 – 2017)

Le Ngoc Binh

Abstract: Lam Dong, a beautiful and poetic land in the Southern Central Highlands, embodies a rich tapestry of cultural and social elements. This region is home to numerous ethnic groups within Vietnam's diverse national community. Alongside the Kinh people and ethnic minorities who migrated from the north and various regions, indigenous ethnic groups such as the K'Ho, Ma, Churu, and M'nong have coexisted here for generations. Lam Dong poetry has developed through the contributions of poets residing and working in the province. By 2017, the local literary community had become quite diverse, with numerous authors receiving recognition and appreciation from readers. Additionally, many admirers of this land have composed poetry about Lam Dong. Recognizing the significance of local literature, this study explores the themes and artistic expressions of Lam Dong poetry from 2012 to 2017, contributing to a deeper understanding of its literary characteristics and informing future research on the region's poetic landscape.

Keywords: topic; new economy; Central Highlands; Lam Dong poetry; culture.

Characteristics of Lam Dong Poetry from 2017 to 2022: A Case Study of Tho Lam Dong 2017-2022

Dang Thi Lanh

Abstract: Lam Dong is a sunny and windy highland that has gone through turbulent history and changes of the times, yet it still retains its romantic and poetic beauty. With a rich and diverse indigenous culture, cool climate all year round, beautiful natural landscapes, and “elegant - gentle - hospitable” people, Da Lat - Lam Dong has become a source of inspiration for many generations of poets and writers. This article focused on researching Lam Dong poetry from 2017 to 2022 to point out the typical features in terms of meaning and artistic aspects of Lam Dong poetry, thereby showing the dedicated contributions by generations of poets to the building and development of rich and beautiful Da Lat - Lam Dong, as well as making an important contribution to the development of culture and literature and arts of the province in particular and the whole country in general.

Keywords: poetry; Lam Dong poetry; highland region; literature and arts.

Incorporating Cultural Elements in Teaching and Learning Japanese: A Case Study of Japanese Studies Program, Dalat University

Nguyen Thi Phuong Dung, Doan Nguyen Ngoc Phuong

Abstract: This study examines the current state of integrating cultural elements into the teaching and learning of the Japanese language in the Japanese Studies program at Dalat University. Using student questionnaires and faculty interviews with faculty members, we found that although instructors have incorporated cultural aspects into their Japanese language lessons, the frequency and effectiveness of these integrations remain limited. In response to this situation, the author proposes several teaching approaches that incorporate cultural elements to enhance the effectiveness of Japanese language instruction for both instructors and students.

Keywords: Culture; Language; Japanese; Cultural Integration; Foreign Language Teaching Methods.